HOOFBEATS

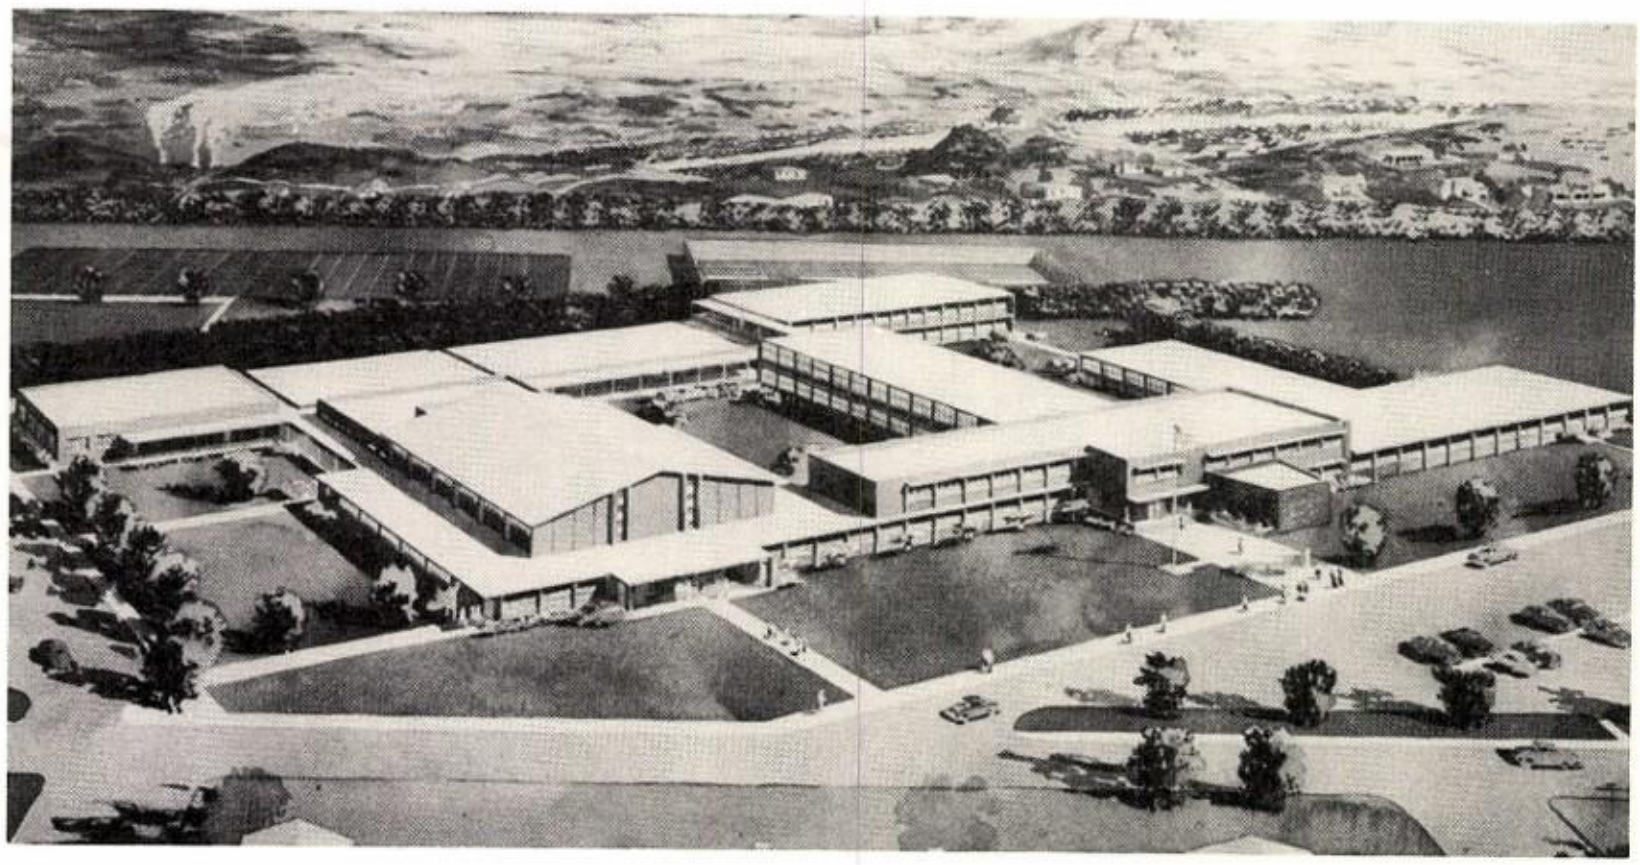
FIRST EDITION 1956

TO BE PUBLISHED ANNUALLY

EL PASO, TEXAS



WILLIAM H. BURGES HIGH SCHOOL

In the years to come, a symbol that will grow in meaningfulness at Burges High School is that of a Mustang. Through this, our first edition, we follow the sounds and impressions of the hoofbeats of a young mustang.

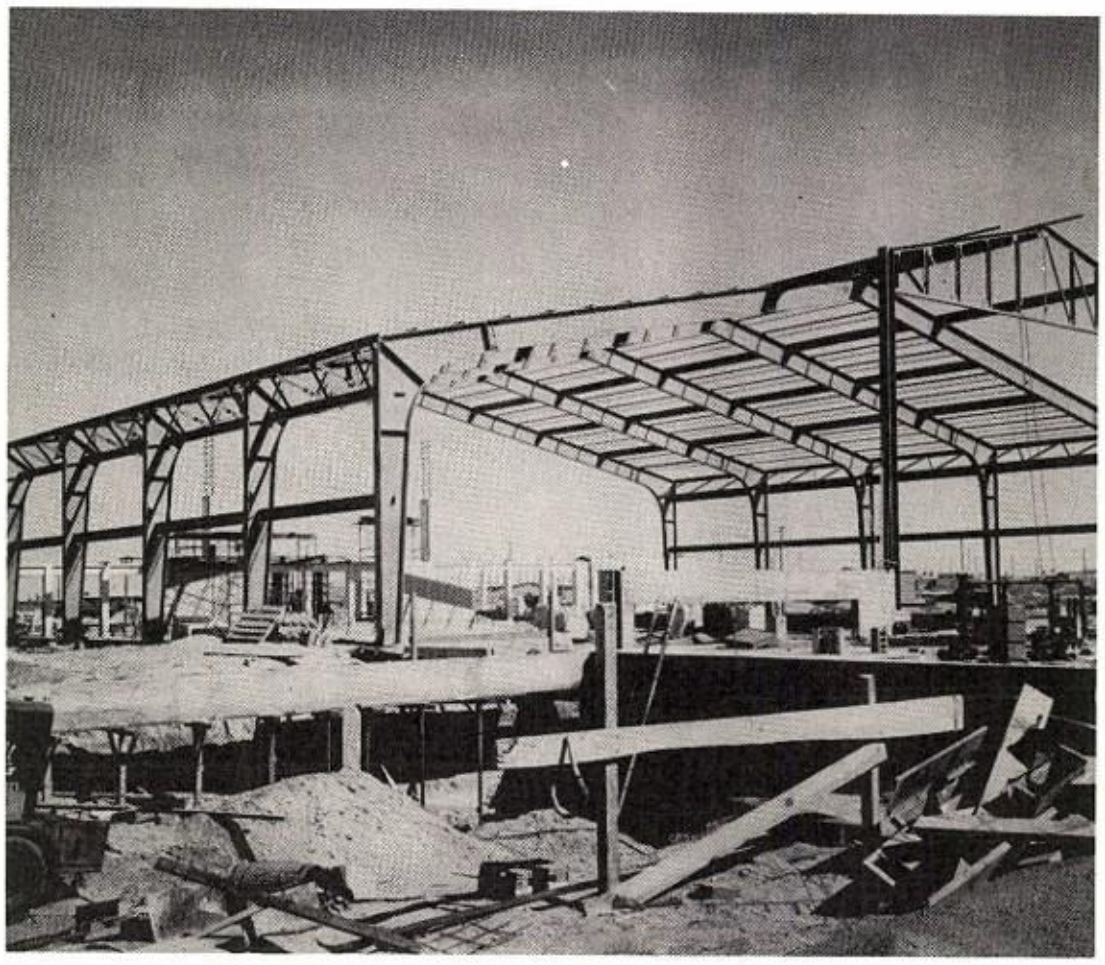
We are the first "GOLDEN MUSTANGS" of Burges High School. We remember that only a short while ago the space now occupied by our school was barren desert, disturbed only by small whirlwinds and heavy sandstorms and the tiny trails made by miniature creatures that live among tumbleweeds and cacti.



We are able to visualize the first shovelful of sand and dirt preceding the great earth movement projects by machines, for then came the bulldozer, the grader, and the laborer. The sand dunes were leveled, the desert animals left in fright, and the foundation was set. The framework was erected, and the great piles of steel, bricks, and bags of concrete soon grew into this magnificent and modern building, containing gymnasium, laboratories, library, and classrooms.

May Burges High always be an inspiration to the students who come and go and a credit to our community.

IN MEMORIAM...

WILLIAM H. BURGES

FOOTPRINTS IN THE SAND

William H. Burges, for whom the Burges High School was named, was a true man of the Southwest. He was the type of man whom Texans admire in that he did great things in a most humble way. He did not have the opportunity for secondary education that most students have today but through private tutors and self-styled education he prepared himself for college. Mr. Burges was graduated from the University of Texas in 1889. After graduation, and before coming to El Paso, he worked on a ranch, a time at which Indian encounters were not uncommon.

Mr. Burges came to El Paso in the early 1890's and his fame as a lawyer became widely known while he was counsel for a local refining corporation.

From early childhood he was interested in the improvement of education through and by the institution of better library service to the people of El Paso.

It is hard for a community to pay due respect to one who has done so much for his fellow men, but El Paso is proud to have a new high school named in honor of MR. WILLIAM H. BURGES.

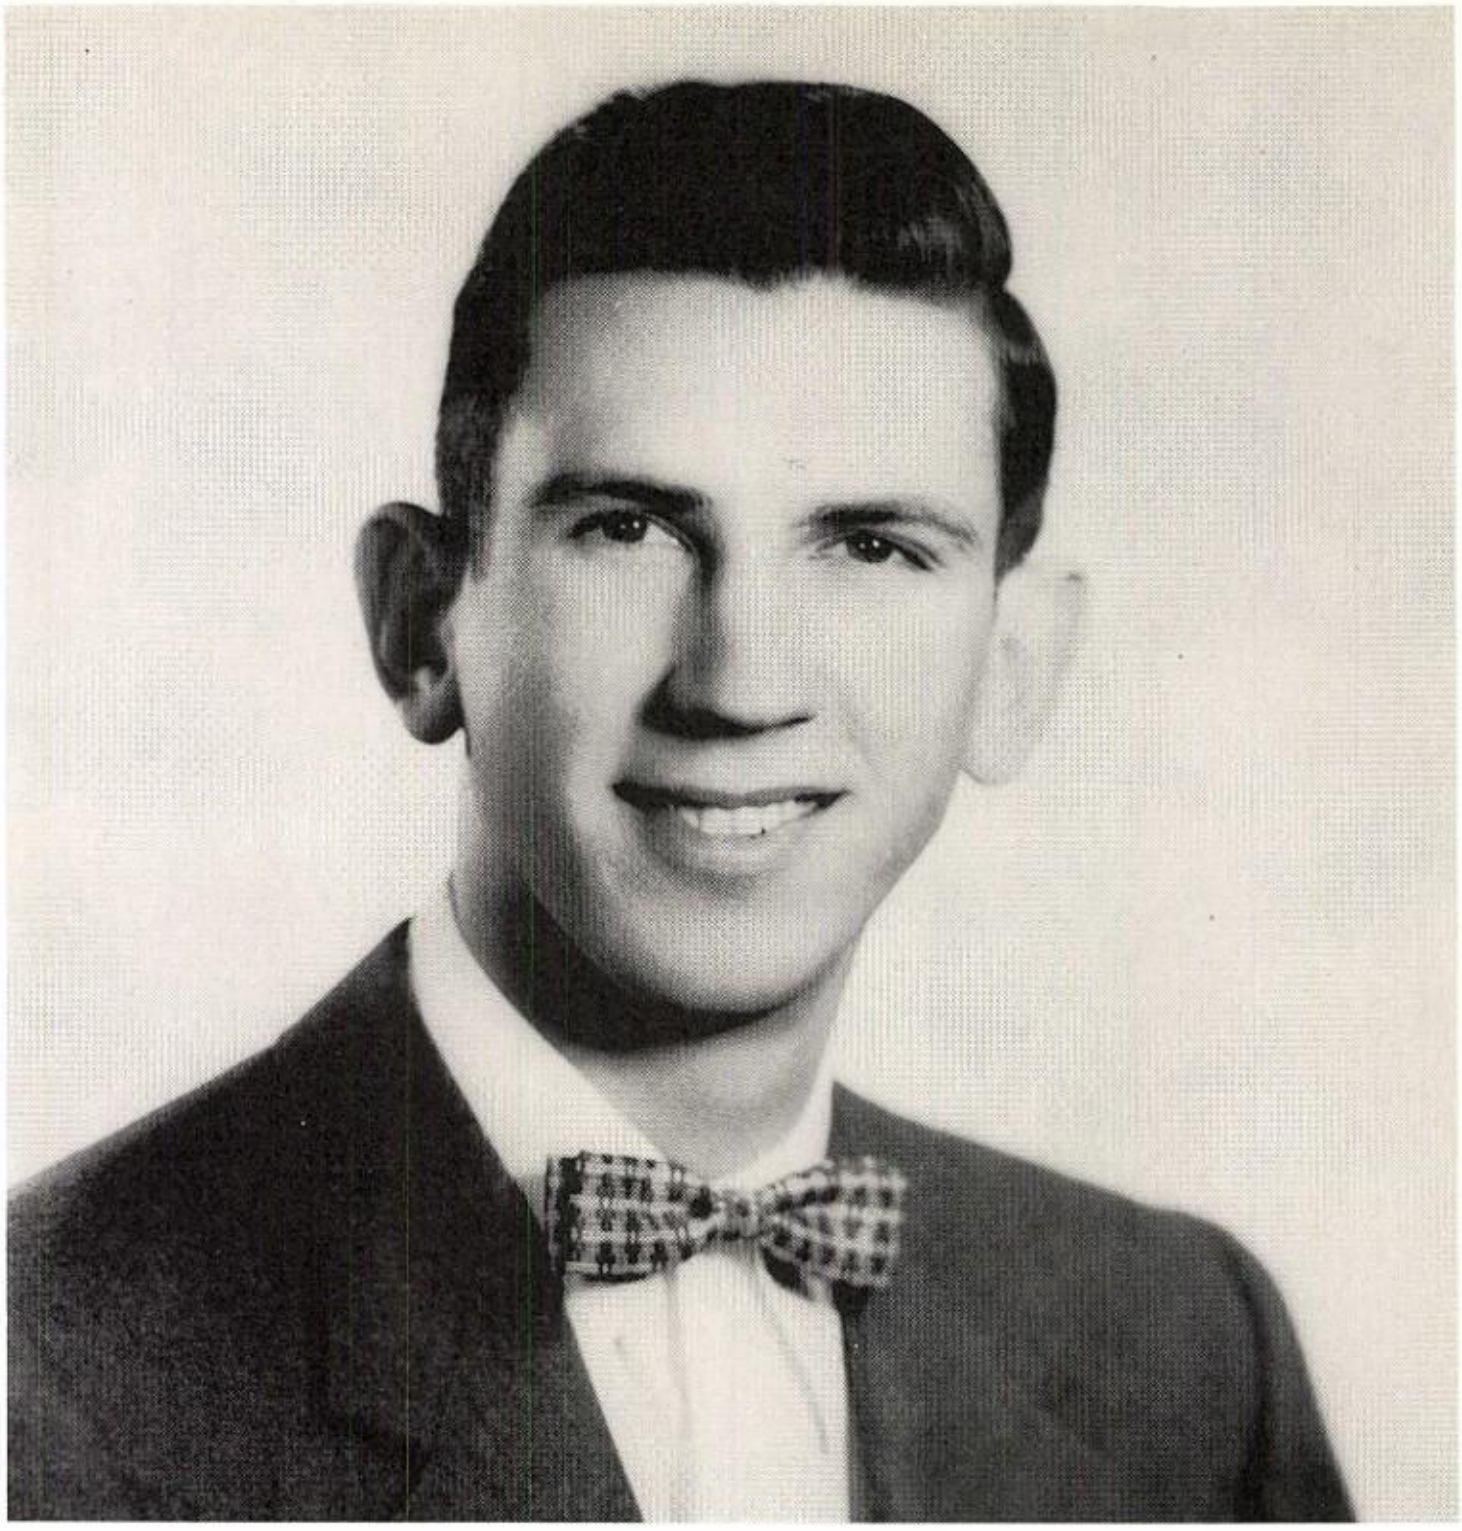
The purpose of the Burges High School Senior Student Council is to help develop and promote practice in good citizenship; promote harmonious relations throughout the school; improve student-teacher relationships; improve school morale; provides orderly direction of school activities; and to represent the entire student body in all activities and functions.

Membership in the Student Council comes from senior high students; two from each homeroom. These students must have a C average or better. Officers, elected by the student body, must have a B average or better.

Mrs. Jennie Bailey and Mr. Ed Ely, discuss plans for the Student Council.



I should like to take this opportunity to thank the administration and advisors for guidance and cooperation in all Student Council affairs. I should like to thank the student body for their fine spirit and support of Burges activities. Thanks too, to members of the Student Council. Success in your efforts has resulted from the desire to do a job well.

In serving as Student Council and Student Body President during the year 1955-1956, I hope that I have done the work which was expected of my office, work which I have so much enjoyed.

I believe that as their president I can say that the expressed desire of the Student Council to function for the student body has brought about a bond of loyalty to the school and the students therein. Perhaps in some ways we have erred. But certainly in many ways we have progressed. I believe that the Student Council has established a fine record and that traditions have been started which the student body of future years will look upon with favor.

Our first year at Burges has been a memorable one.

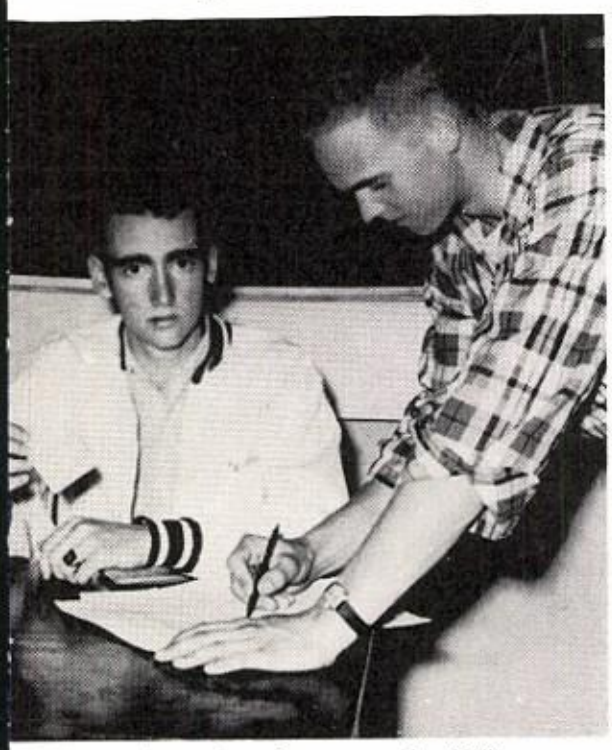
STUDENT COUNCIL SPONSORS PROGRESSIVE ACTIVITIES

The Student Council accomplished one of its biggest projects for Burges High School when on March 1 a Safe-Teen program was launched. Representatives of the press, radio and television, met before the student body on that date and lauded Burges for taking the lead in El Paso in striving for highway safety.

Ray Espersen, Student Council safety commissioner, spearheaded the movement at Burges along with Bill and Jerry Deal. Eighty-nine student drivers signed their names to the enrollment pledge "thereby demonstrating my desire publicly to prove that youthful drivers can lead in highway safety". Safe-Teens, a nationwide, non-profit corporation was initiated in Beavertown, Oregon, December, 1954 by a lady judge tired of youth being made the scapegoat of the nation's traffic problems. Local administrator for the Burges chapter is Coach James Russell.

Congratulations for safety team work are given Ray Espersen, Bill Deal and Coach James Russell by J. Warren Hoyt, chairman of the El Paso Safety Council and Capt. Howard Jones, head of the traffic division of the El Paso Police Department.

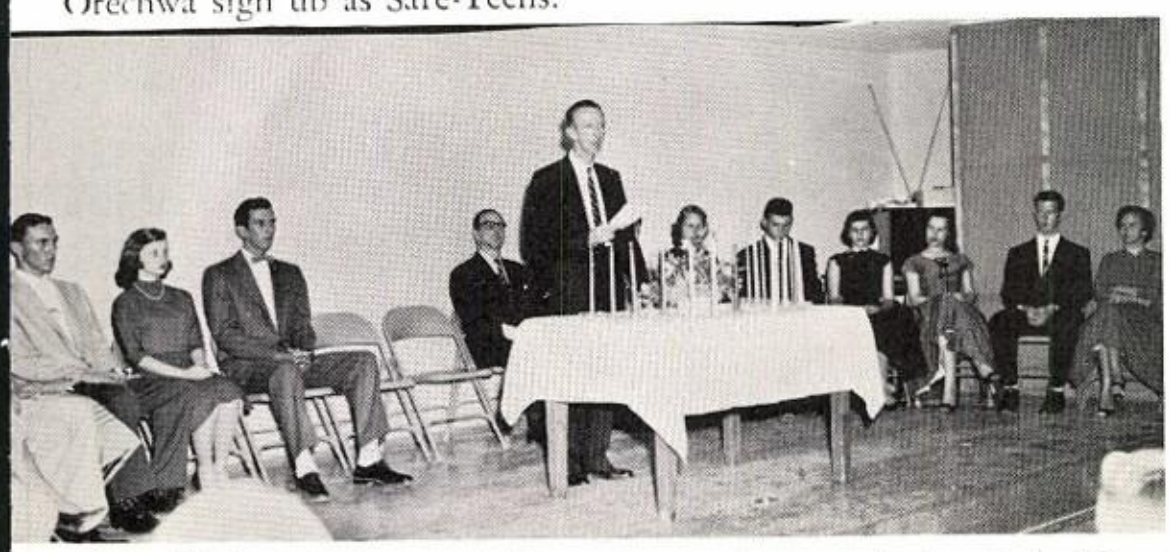
The Student Council sponsored many other activities this year in functioning for the student body. A slave auction was held in October in which members were sold to students who would pay the highest bid. Throughout the football season the Council printed gold and purple lapel ribbons. Recognition was brought to Burges when in December members made luminarios to decorate the school and won a first place prize in the yule lighting contest.



Charles Sanders and Wayne Orechwa sign up as Safe-Teens.

Twirp season from January 9 to 20 turned the social tables when The Woman Is Requested To Pay. License permits were sold to girls and they in turn selected a Twirp King for the Sock Hop. The Student Council also made possible the Mustang decals displayed proudly on student and faculty cars. The Beauty Dance on February 25 was sponsored by the Student Council.

In March the Council sent delegates to a meeting of the Texas Association of Student Councils in Midland, Texas, to bring back to Burges suggestions for improvement in the functioning of a truly effective Student Council.



Mr. Hibbard Polk extended greetings and represented central office at the Burges High School Student Council officers' installation ceremony.

Barbara Davis neglected to buy a Twirp License and as a result Aubrey Webb saw it fit to sleep the dance out.

This is how we started.

HOOFBEATS

This . . . . . is the first HOOFBEATS of Burges High School . . . . . 1956. Sounds serious doesn't it? Only if you were on the staff, would you realize what a hilarious riot it was. Though many thought not, they can now look back and instead of smiling gently, mechanically laugh and go stark, raving mad.

Everyone knows that an annual is an expensive operation and that it's that much harder starting from scratch. We were informed after joyfully becoming the staff, that we were fifty dollars in the hole without even starting.

Is a yearbook hard work? This was a hard question to answer until the middle of the term when we wore out one sponsor and started in on another. Miss Nancy Miller held on as long as possible, then was carted off. Mrs. Sophie Janet then had a heroine's mind and now doesn't have any at all.

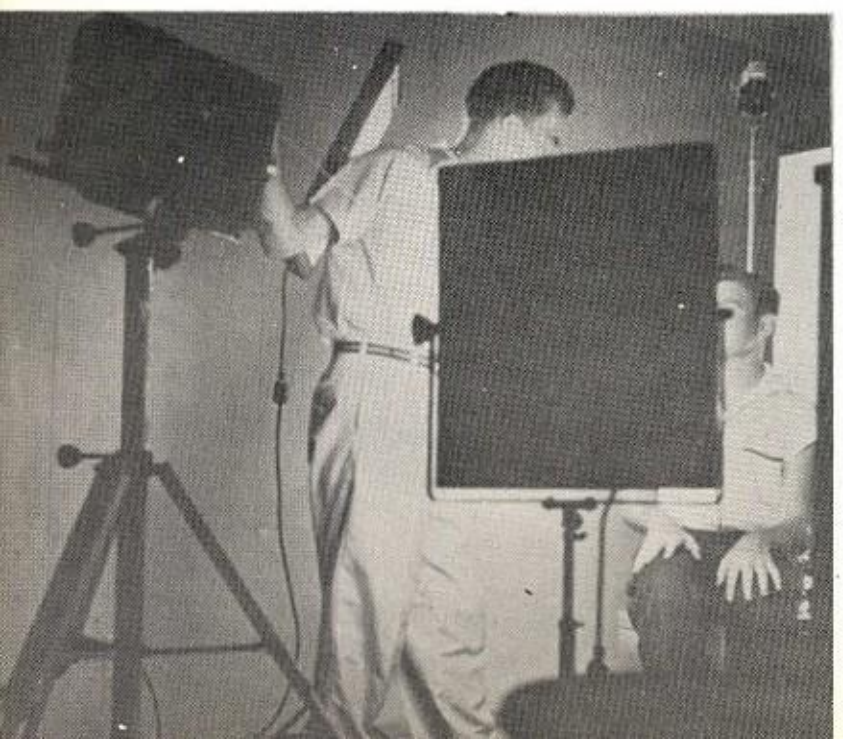
Business ran smoothly until Elizabethy discovered we didn't have a typist. She became Copy Editor. . . .Ooooh!

HOOFBEATS Editor read somewhere that he should walk up to his happy workers, smile, ask how they were doing and if they had any problems. But they looked at him the way a Ubangi head-hunter looks at the great white hunter.

Jo Alice, our business manager, managed an awful lot of business, and even some pertaining to the book.

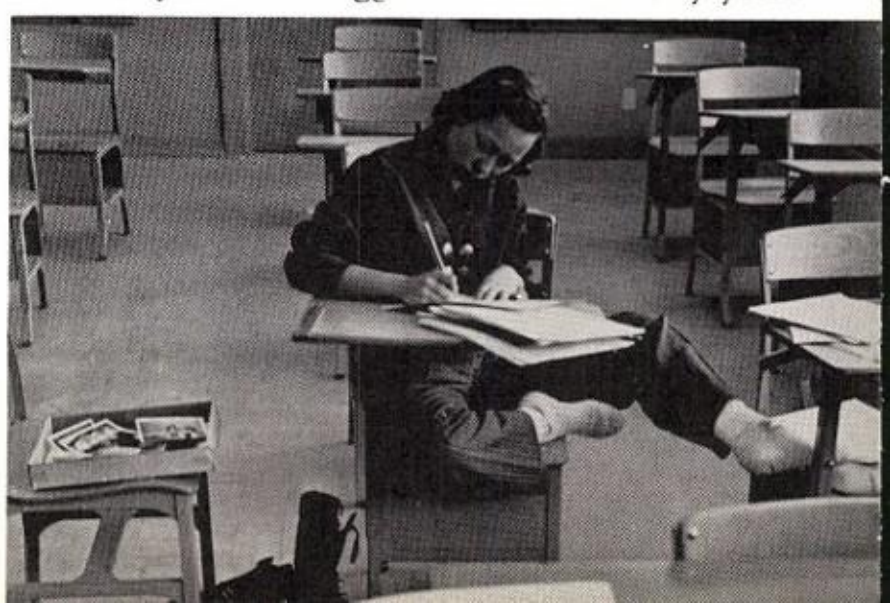
Donna Varden, dearest treasurer, had red hair, lily white hands, and now, green fingers. After a year of HOOFBEATS, she goes on to higher things . . . . 3rd floor, Straight Jackets, Inc.

Dickse and Texie, two crazy names, now with minds to match, worked too hard on HOOFBEATS and to all kinds of books have inferiority complexes, for every time they see one, they stop, bow, and utter the magic words which were sold to them by Mrs. Janet for three beans apiece.



A nightmare

Day off . . . biggest snowfall in forty years.



HOOFBEATS Survival Staff
Those not pictured, are either lying down, or strapped down.

R. O. T. C. Sponsors' uniforms, in the event of taking forever and a day in arriving finally did so, which enlightened Grady Dyer to the extent he completely forgot to have their pictures taken.

Margee McClenahan chased senior boys . . . . . and girls all over school, so as to make picture appointments for one and all. Some were rather elusive, as if they didn't want their mugs in our book.

Advertising was the most fun. This is just a fancy word for disrupting half the respectable businesses in town. Everyone did his best at high pressuring except the editor who was too dignified. "Red" Gruendyke, our sleepy Ad Manager, and whose complexion sometimes matched his hair when an Ad was misplaced, survived the whole frantic mess and deserves a big hand . . . so . . . when you read this . . . please clap.

Juan was our official runner, which put him in great shape for track. He has odd shaped feet, explaining where the marks on the ceilings around school came from earlier this year.

Margie Baird had the envied (?) job of putting on the Beauty Contest for Hoofbeats Club.

Our very own double exposure brigade, often under the influence of K1-2A Tri-X, were constant enemies of many impatient students who thoroughly disliked picture retakes necessary as they were. Came near the last deadline, the camera shutter went on the blink; they wouldn't shutter, so instant pictures were conjured up with the help of "Big" Deal's Polaroid, which saved his sports section too. Bill, by the way, was our one and only Senior Hi Sports Editor, who did all sports work himself.

All in all, HOOFBEATS was completed (much to the surprise of all) with a sigh of relief, heard, we suppose, hither and yon.

Mrs. Evelyn Nichols, a friend, especially in time of $ troubles

Oh, Exalted.

STAMPEDE

At the year's end it is finally revealed that gargantuan wails heard near 101 sixth period were not signals for S. S. S. but merely indications that Stampede editors were squeezing the last ounce of energy from weary staff reporters.

The inexperienced staff worked hard this year and put out 11 issues filled with news and views. The first semester but one typewriter could be found. More wails and scraping. Second semester two antiques were donated. To no avail. Then the business department showed the staff what a typewriter really looked like and even loaned them two. Things went more smoothly until the Hoofbeats staff learned what deadline meant. It was quite a corral, full of hoofing and stampeding kids.

The newspaper staff made a good beginning and set the foundation for Stampede staffs to come. Here's wishing them luck, and at the same time, here's handing out medals to the now retired staff. Incidentally, you may see these members during visiting hours at the Asylum for Mentally Retarded Stampede Workers.

Just looking! Someone said they were delivered this noon.

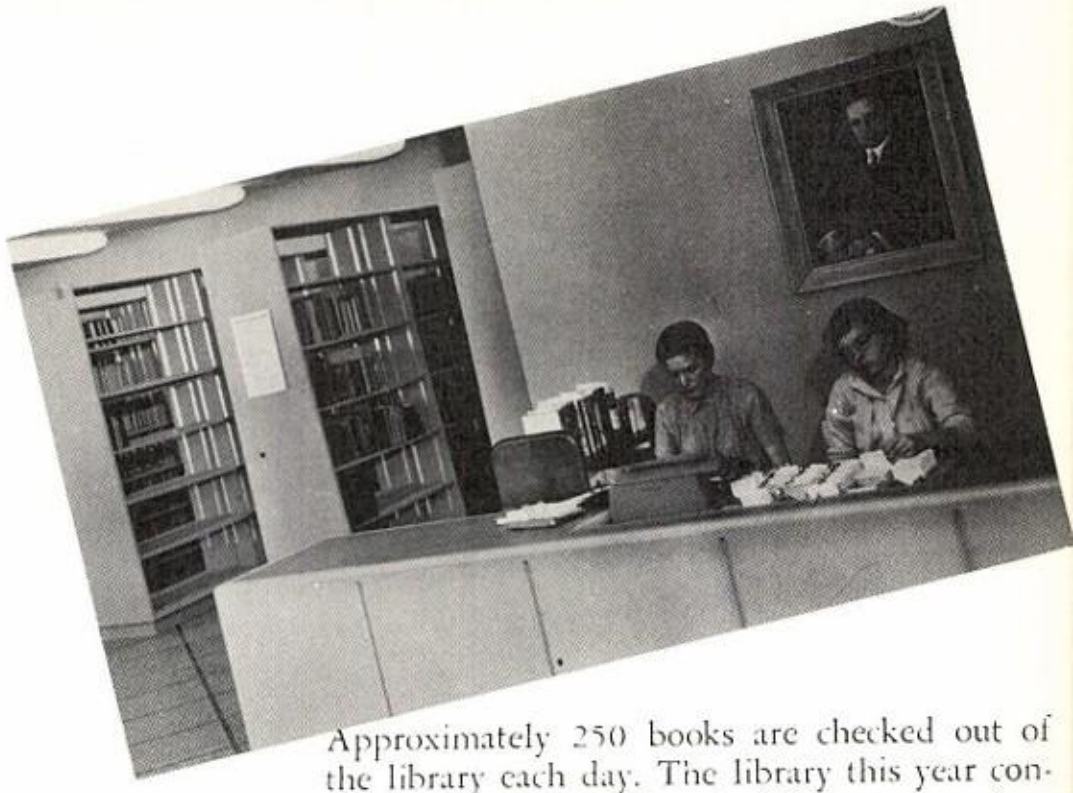
The Staff one day were "caught" working.

A burglar is softened by Caroline's tales of woe and persuaded to give up his antisocial career—"Goodnight, Caroline".

No one knew exactly who was responsible for the faculty party at Christmas. The Principal is suspected.

William H. Burges High School was dedicated on Sunday, March 11, 1956. On that date there were approximately 1,789 students attending Burges, 1,440 in grades four through nine and 349 in high school.



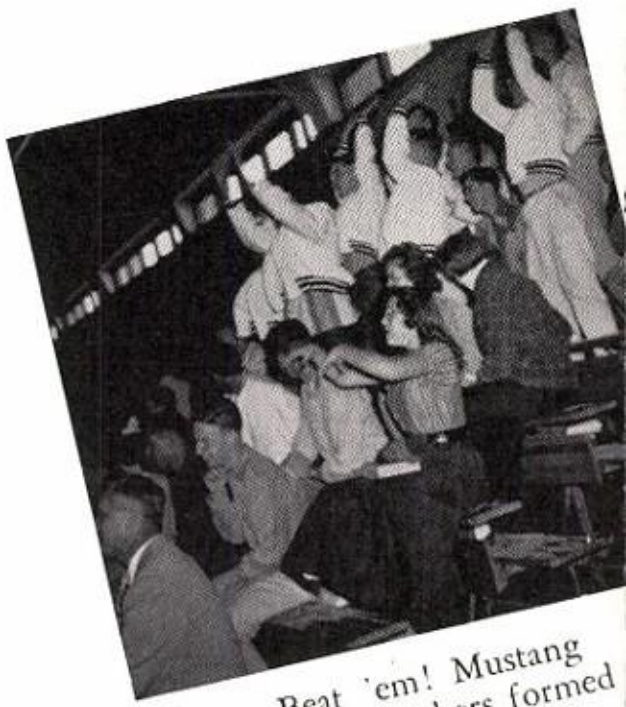
Approximately 250 books are checked out of the library each day. The library this year contains some 4000 books, 60 different magazines and 4 newspapers, two from out of town.

Homemaking students recognize child development as a vital part of their course. Good habits of play and study are learned even at preschool age in the nursery school here.

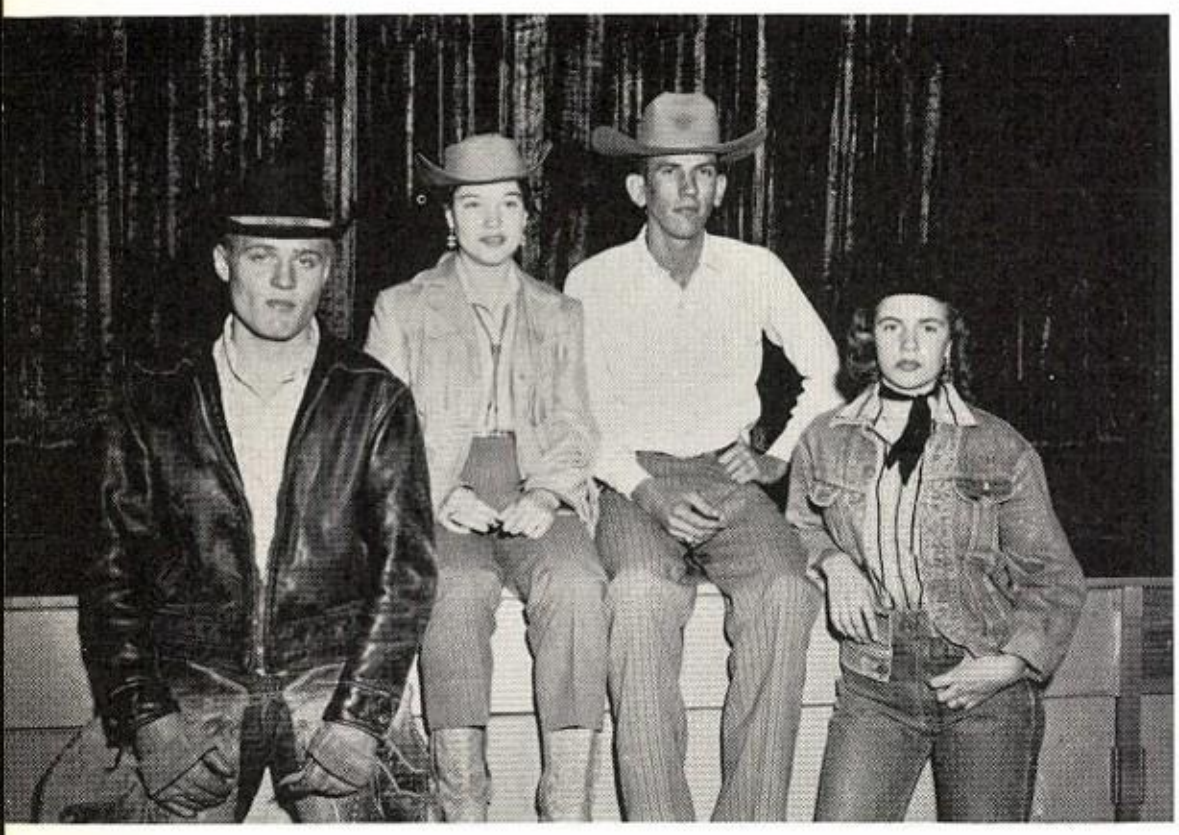
A slave bows to her master's bidding during the initiation of Latin Club members.

Course in Glamor??? Mrs. Jo Ondracek demonstrates make-up application to the speech dept. on her faithful assistant, Faye Bruton.

The bookroom may be the most popular room at BHS. Mrs. Maxine Armstrong collects "lost and found" and supplies countless school articles.



Beat 'em! Mustang Club members formed a cheering section.



These students, selected the most realistic "Cowpokes" and "Dudes" at Go-Western Assembly, received free tickets to the Rodeo.

Representatives of Transcribers Society for the Blind, Inc., well received in assembly, amazed students with their musical ability. They are shown demonstrating the braille alphabet.

Mrs. Harriet Gerber, Attendance Clerk, has the most up-to-date records in the school.

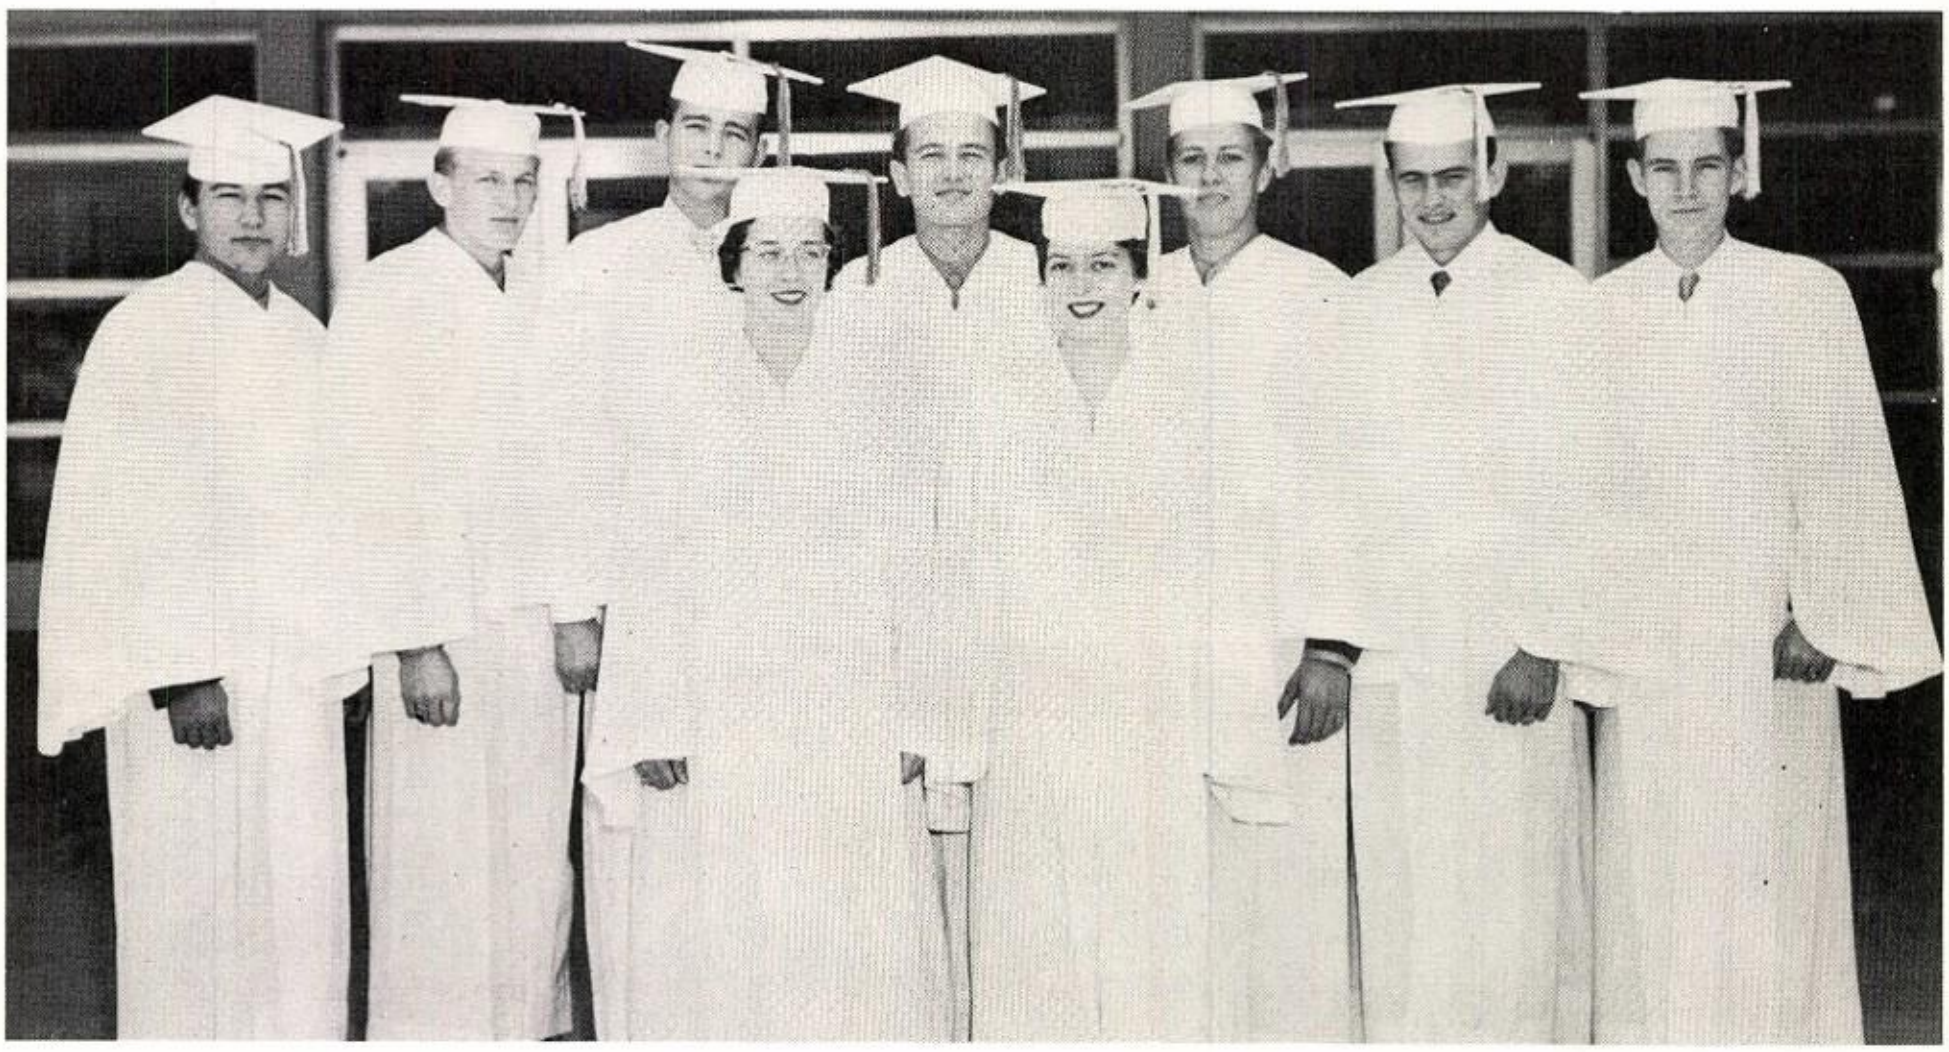
The day has come to take another big step in life. The memories behind us will be cherished forever, and we have truly loved the easy life often thought so dull.



Eleven students received the first diplomas issued by Burges High School on January 19. They are Bennie Hill, Carl Currey, Tim Guinn, Marilyn McConnell, Jim Callison, Diane Yerby, Emmett Kelly, Bob Wylie, and Sherman Pavey. Not shown are Ronald DeVillier and Spencer Bulger.

As senior sponsors, Mr. Benton Smith, Mrs. Nellie Lennon and Mrs. Alice White plan graduation activities which include baccalaureate, prom, banquet and graduation.

"Even our freshmen contributed. Burges students contributed staples for the Canned Goods Drive which made Christmas for needy El Paso families a happier one."

JUNIOR HIGH

The Junior High Attendance Office has records of approximately 1,440 students in grades four through nine. Names of 120 were added when students from Wainwright School arrived at Burges on November 11.

The "miles" of records which are kept by Mrs. Glennis Waide, Attendance Clerk (sitting) and Mrs. Ida Smith, Assistant Clerk (standing), include registration, attendance and tardiness. Seventeen student assistants help in the attendance office at various periods during the day.

YTILEDIF Y-TEENS

The purpose of this Junior Y-Teens club is to sponsor activities which will help the town and school and in so doing build better American citizens. Mrs. Nadine Spato and Mrs. Blanche Fedric are the Y. W. C. A. and teacher sponsors.

This year's officers, pictured at the left, are:

President—Sylvia Runte
Vice-President—Elisa Montes
Secretary—Marie Bradford
Treasurer—Jeanette Gray
Historian—Martha Gene Green
Chaplain—Neva Lou Robinson

Ytiledif Y-Teens has forty-three members. Six of these are officers and charter members. One of the first activities of this club was a scavenger hunt and supper party in December. The food which was collected was distributed to needy families in El Paso. Mrs. Runte, mother of the president, treated the girls to a supper party when they returned from "the hunt."

February 8 was an important date to remember—the formal initiation of club officers and members. The girls enjoyed their mid-winter conference held at Cloudcroft in New Mexico on February 11 and 12. Delegates were there from all Y-Teens Clubs in El Paso. One purpose of the conference was to discover ways to improve the club, another to prepare for summer camp. Many winter sports were open to the girls during their stay at Cloudcroft.

A cake sale netted the club money with which to work and in February the girls were treated to a swim and slumber party at the Y. W. C. A.

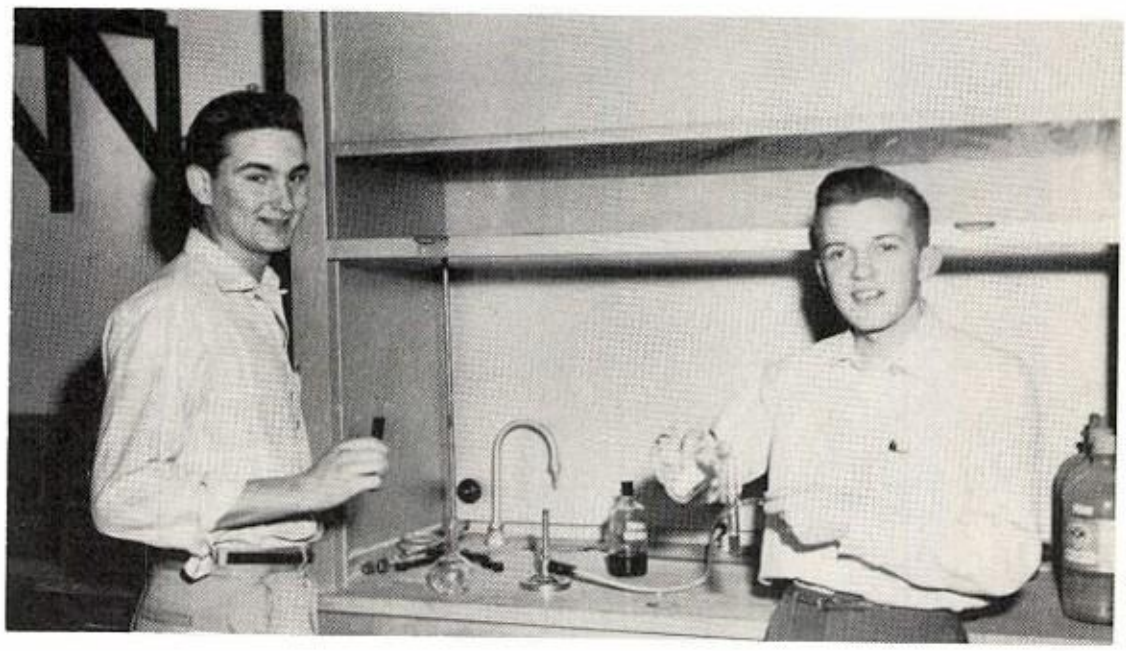
To Your Attention . . . .

Marjie Baird is the top student in Journalism. Her second semester project was the beauty contest.



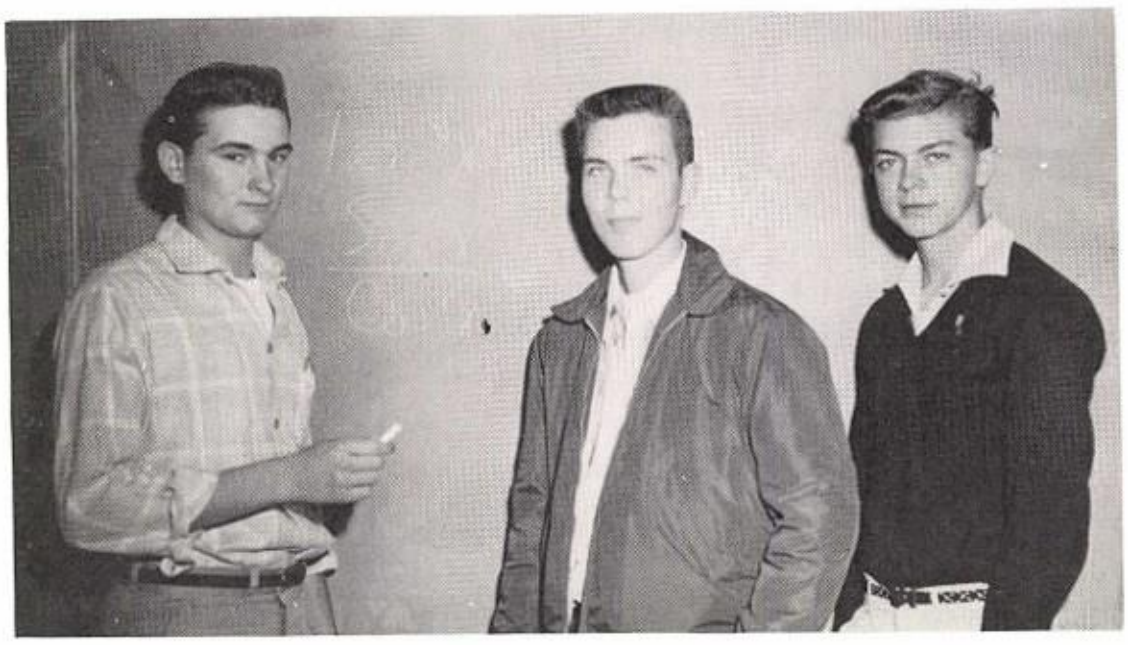
Harvey Eidinoff and Stanford Hickman look as if they enjoy chemical experiments. Harvey and Stan tied for the highest average in the science department.

Texie Le Birchfield and Jerry Deal achieved the highest grade averages in the Commercial department.

Mrs. Jessee Treadaway announced Marilyn Lewis as top student in Homemaking.

Leo Fernandez was the outstanding senior art student with the combination of talent, hard work, and leadership.

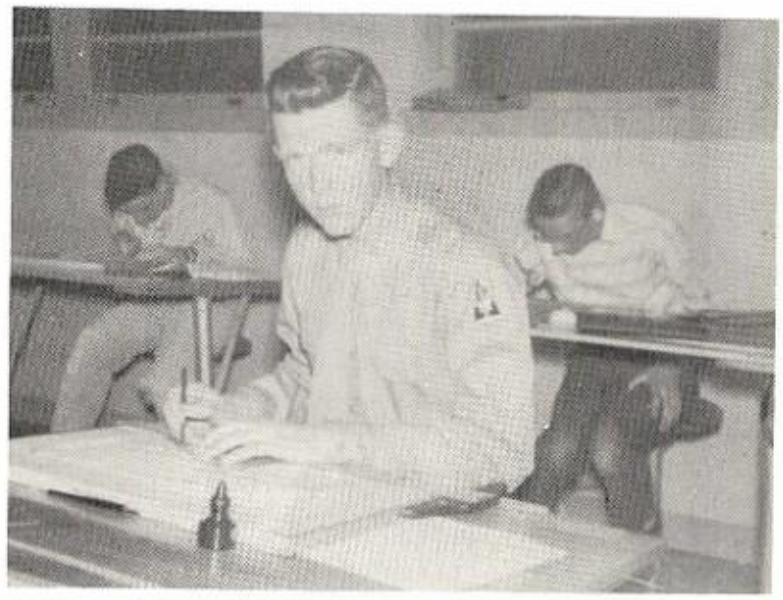
Harvey Eidinoff, Willard Smith, and James Dennis were the three outstanding seniors in Mathematics over a four year period, having taken all the mathematics offered in high school. Their grades were A's.



Margee McClenahan received the outstanding senior band student award. For exceptional work in Latin, she also received the outstanding senior student award in the Latin Department.

Belle Huffman and Claire La Capria talked their way to the top. They were the outstanding students of the speech department.

James Dennis has taken World History, American History, Civics, and Modern Problems in the Social Studies area. The highest average in these subjects has given him the Social Studies outstanding student award. Jimmy also received the top senior student award in the Spanish department.



Bob Wright was announced the outstanding senior in the mechanical drawing department.

Jimmy Dennis and Willard Smith were awarded the top honors of the English department.

Beverly Collins received the outstanding choir student award. Mr. Jones said, "She is all anyone could ask as "A Choir President and as an example to all who will follow her in choir."

PRESENTS ···

THE 1956 BEAUTY CONTEST

Beauty contestants were first selected by secret ballot by all high school students. During the preliminaries, held at school one week before the contest, these contestants were judged on beauty, poise and personality. Twenty girls were selected by three judges, Mrs. Varner Henry, Mrs. Margaret Watson, and Mr. Bob Andrews, to continue into the finals.

February 25 was the day Burges was to discover the most beautiful girl in the school. On that night 20 girls, dressed in party dresses and then in formals, walked across the stage in front of five final judges and a large audience of parents and students. Mrs. Lucille Talbot, Mrs. Elizabeth Lind, Mr. Hank Lemmon, Mr. Bill Marrow and Mr. Maury Bands selected the five most beautiful girls.

An enormous multi-colored diadem centered on the stage, balloons, serpentine and two festive masks set on either side of the stage carried out a Mardi Gras theme. In keeping with this theme, Patsy Chauvet played her part as court jester. Members of the TuneSmiths, talent club at Burges, furnished entertainment for the Beauty Queen.

Margie Baird was in charge of the contest. Dickse Williamson and Rudy Montoya assisted her with decorations. Emcee for the contest was Grady Dyer.

On February 25, five judges selected the most beautiful girls at Burges High School.

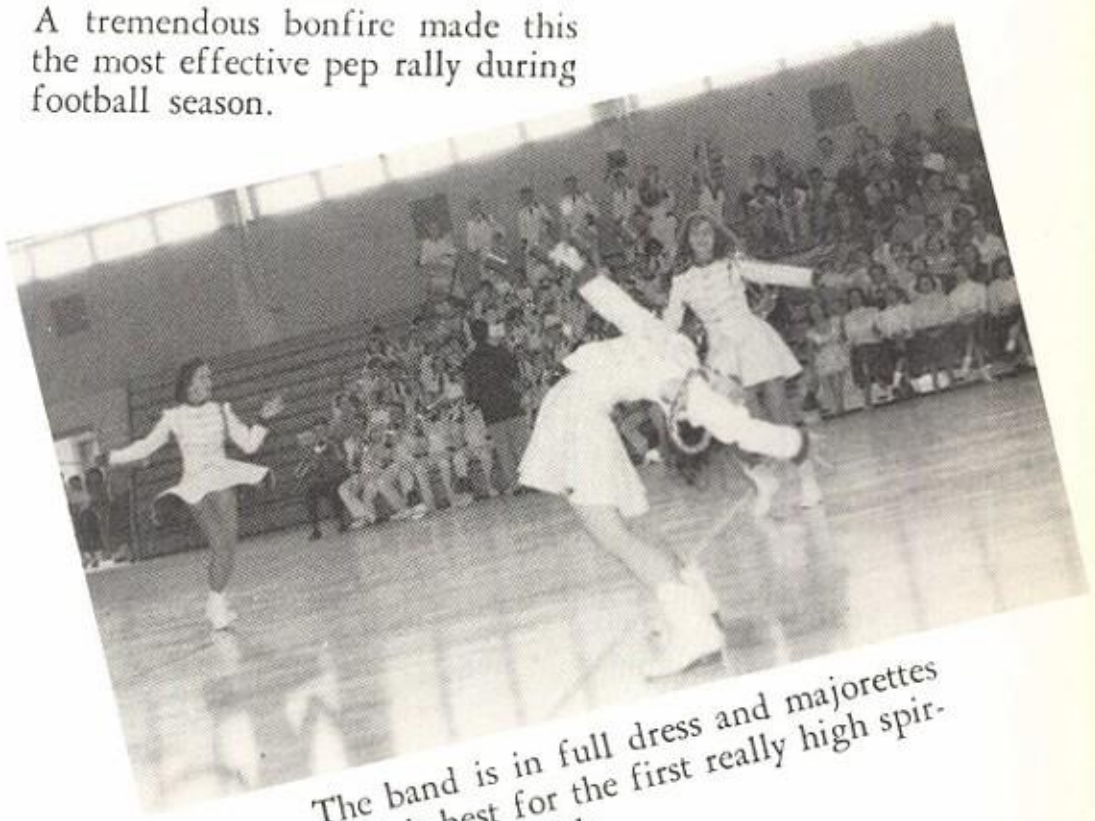
One of the first school-wide dances was the Coronation Ball. "Let's do the Bunny Hop."

Chivalry is not dead! Helen Lewels will tell you.

A tremendous bonfire made this the most effective pep rally during football season.

Charles Arnold Thomas, El Paso tenor, guest of the music department for a day, sang many of the student's favorite songs.

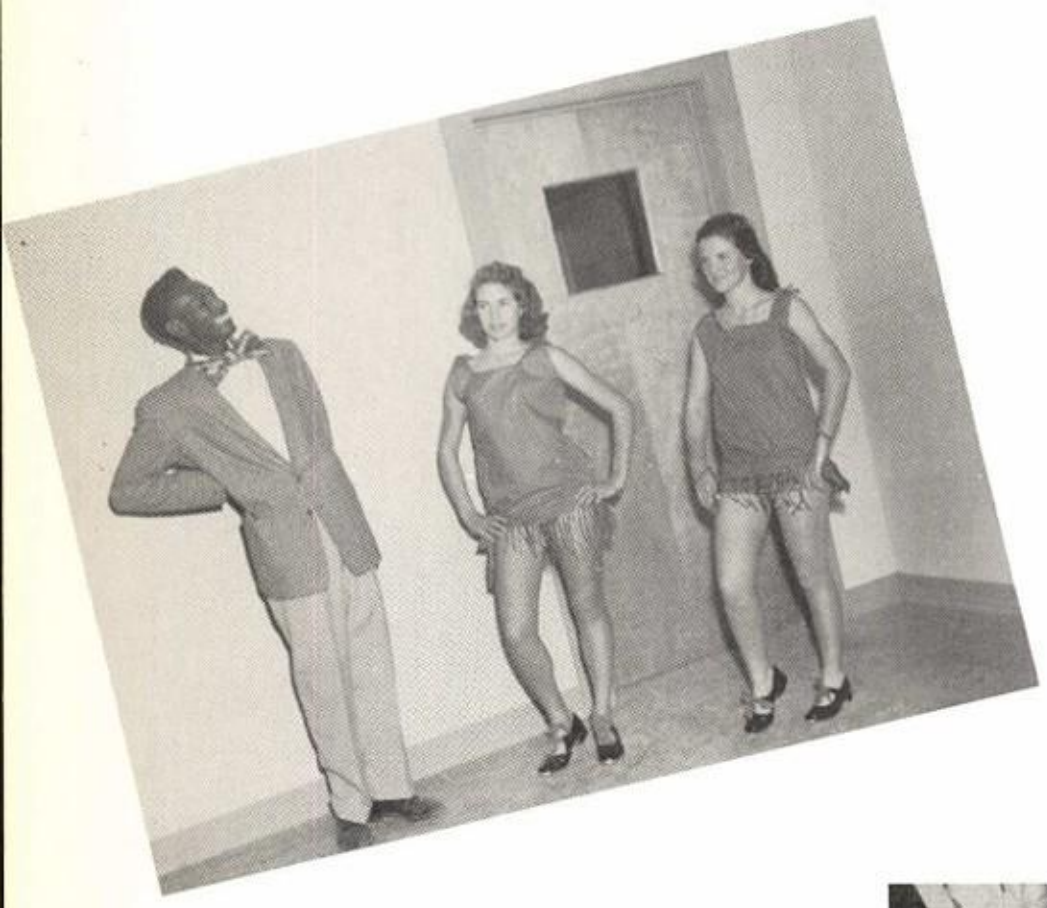


The band is in full dress and majorettes at their best for the first really high spirited pep assembly.

Mary Sue Stevens, selected Football Queen by the varsity team, is crowned by Virgil Welch, during the Coronation Ball on November 19, 1955.

"Won't you say, 'I do' and make us both full-fledged Dramatic Club members?"

A Mustang is the symbol of William H. Burges High School, set in colored tile in the main hall. From its theme springs this, Hoofbeats, and Stampede, our newspaper.



"Don't be shy, gals. Everyone likes a minstrel." On January 11, the speech department presented "Burges Blackface Burlesque" written by Bill Hageman.

Judy Latta is presented with a bouquet of roses after having been selected the most beautiful girl at Burges.

"Told Dad I had to, to become an Ecivres Club member."

Six minute rush!

We used to step in holes. Now we trip over pipes. How about some grass to slip on?

BACKFIELD COACH
HULING P. ROBINSON

TO OUR FOOTBALL BOYS.

Our football season's over,
The games were pretty glum
Opponents showed no mercy,
The players all feel bum.

It's been a sorry season,
We tried, but all to naught.
We got an "A" for effort,
'Cause victory we sought.

But let's not down our Mustangs,
They did their very best,
They played their very hearts out,
And wound up so oppressed.

So let's all sing their praises,
And boost 'em to the sky.
We'll keep their spirits soaring
If we will only try.

And then, just wait'll next year,
'Cause if we do our part,
Our boys will fight for "District"
And play with all their heart.

God bless you guys for trying.
You gave your very all,
You've got the guts for football,
You big guys, and you small.

You need our cheers and yelling,
You need our voices loud.
And in return you'll give us,
A team to make us proud!

BAND LOOKS BACK ON FULL SEASON

Burges High School Band made its mark this year both at school and in the community and a favorable one it was judging by the number of times the band was asked to perform at the rate of at least one major performance each month.

The band supported and cheered the football team throughout the season. They played during eight games. In November, they played during the Camp Carson-Fort Bliss football game. The band was honored to learn they were selected from throughout the city to play in the General Motors Parade of Progress on January 11. On January 2, they had played in the Sun Carnival Parade. In February the Band performed in the Rodeo Parade.

Five members of the band, called the Woodwind Quintet, played for the High Senior Graduation in January. Carol Thompson played the oboe, Margee McClenahan the flute, Virginia Ripley, bassoon, Grady Cofer the clarinet and Jerry Prewitt played the French horn. The band added to the effectiveness of Burges High School's dedication on March 11. A busy season for the Burges High School Band drew to a close with two evening concerts in the spring

The date is January 11, 1956 and the Burges High School Band marches in the General Motors Parade of Progress.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

William H. Burges A Cappella Choir, under the direction of J. Edwin Jones, is a select group of vocalists picked for their sight reading and musical ability. Tryouts are held twice annually to obtain new members.

The "A" Choir performed on many occasions during the year, the first being the Football Coronation on November 23. Other activities included the Christmas Assembly, caroling in the halls before the holiday, and Tri-Hi-Y and Student Council inductions. In the picture above Mr. Jones directs the "A" Choir during the January graduation. Members of the "A" Choir also performed for the El Paso Rotary Club, the East El Paso Lions Club, and took part in the Easter program at school. They sang during the dedicaion of Burges High School on March 11 and the High School Vocal Festival.

First row: Judith Nelson, Betty Reed, Ann Weatherford, Mary Medina, Suzanne Dorroh, Dorthy Zundel, Virginia Stem.
Second row: Phyllis Freeman, Beverly Collins, Sandi Sower, Diane Gardner, Nancy Auman, Zena Garner, Miriam Scott.
Third row: Hazel Ann Bell, Lorene Shively, Barbara Richey, Karen Bluth, Joan Elfers, Leilani Smith, Ann Arnold, Mr. J. Edwin Jones, Director.

Classification Cheerleaders wear purple corduroy, circular skirts with long-sleeved, white, turtleneck sweaters, white loafers and socks. Uniforms are set off with an outstanding purple and gold "B".

ACHIEVEMENTS

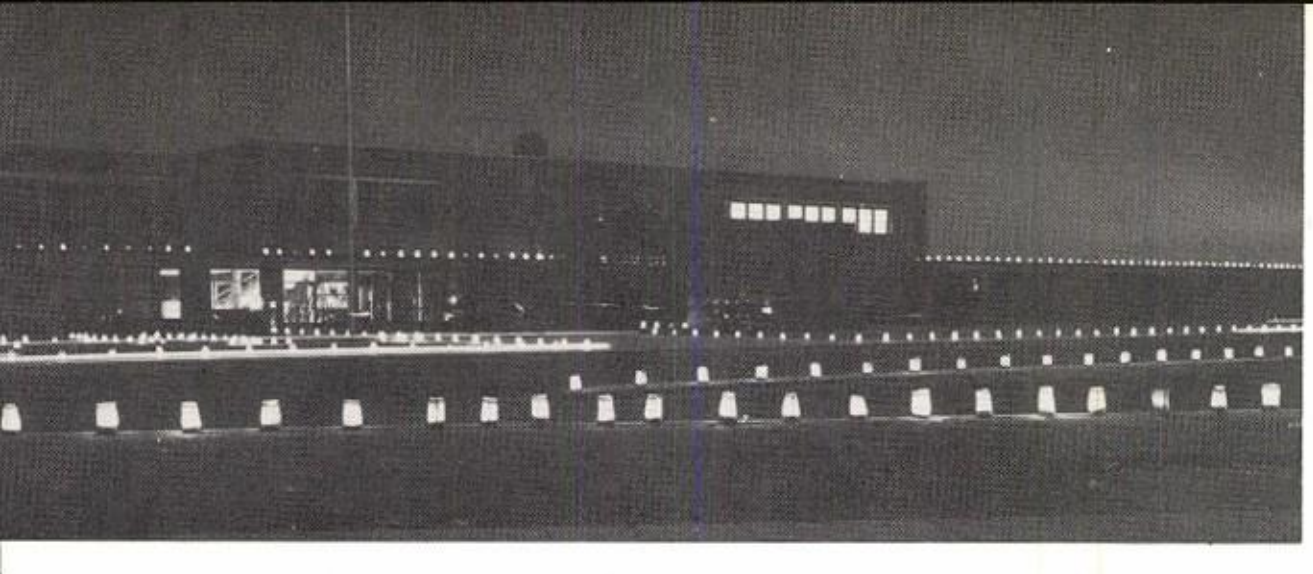
Who? Me?
The highest grade averages for four years made Sherman Pavey the first Valedictorian of BHS.

Runner up for highest honor is Salutatorian, Diane Yerby.

Terry Bolt, James Tatum and Robert Wright, respectively, won first, second and third place among El Paso students in the contest on hiring the physically handicapped. They are congratulated by Rev. Ewart Watts, El Paso contest chairman, and Mrs. Faye Archer.

Margee McClenahan won the D. A. R. award this year on the basis of dependability, service, leadership, patriotism, and scholarship.

Milo Gardner puts forth the extra effort required to win the Voice of Democracy bronze medallion.



'Twas the night before Christmas and Burges High School won a first place prize in the yule lighting contest.

Gosh, it's the greatest! Girls await the decision of judges during preliminaries for the Beauty Contest.

BURGES BOOSTER CLUB

The parents and patrons of Burges formed the Burges Booster Club organized to promote school spirit and support the school in all athletic endeavors. This organization started with 70 charter members and now has increased to 170. The officers are: Tom Davis, president; Dave Waide, vice-president; Sam Rodheaver, secretary, and Frank Strom, treasurer. Regular meetings are held in the evening of the first Monday of each month. The club has donated a whirlpool obtained by the funds received from a spaghetti supper. On December 13, the Booster Club honored the Varsity Football team with a banquet.

BURGES P. T. A.

The Burges Parent Teacher's Association has done much in its first year in an effort to bring into closer relationship the home and the school. They held a reception for the January and May graduating classes and a "Spring Round-Up" in May to entertain and make fun for all grade levels. Members of the P. T. A. sold poll taxes and assisted with the Mother's March on Polio in January. Many of the costumes were made by them.

Members of the Executive Board shown above are: Mrs. H. J. Sowell, Jr., 4th. Vice-Pres.; Mrs. J. A. Davis, Jr., Corresponding Sec'y; Mrs. J. K. Shurley, 8th. Vice-Pres.; Mrs. L. O.
